

A CALL FOR HEALTH COVERAGE

Faith Leaders Speak Out for Children

9 million children in the United States are living without health insurance.

As the National Interfaith Advisory Board for Cover the Uninsured, we believe that all children in America should have access to quality health care. Although we come from diverse backgrounds and religious beliefs, we all agree that we must support children in need.

As Congress turns its focus to the reauthorization of the State Children's Health Insurance Program (SCHIP), we urge our nation's political and civic leaders to make covering all of our children a top priority.
